Non-GAAP financial measures are identified in the footnotes in the pages that follow and are further explained in the Appendix. Although we evaluate and present these non-GAAP financial measures for the reasons described in the Appendix, please be aware that these non-GAAP financial measures have limitations and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for revenues, net income, earnings per share or any other comparable operating measure prescribed by GAAP. In addition, these non-GAAP financial measures may be calculated and / or presented differently than measures with the same or similar names that are reported by other companies, and as a result, the non-GAAP financial measures we report may not be comparable to those reported by others.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

In our presentation we report certain financial measures that are not prescribed by United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). We discuss below our reasons for reporting these non-GAAP financial measures, and we've made footnote references to them on the preceding pages. Although we evaluate and present these non-GAAP financial measures for the reasons described below, please be aware that these non-GAAP financial measures have limitations and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for revenues, net income or any other comparable operating measure prescribed by GAAP. In addition, these non-GAAP financial measures may be calculated and / or presented differently than measures with the same or similar names that are reported by other companies, and as a result, the non-GAAP financial measures we report may not be comparable to those reported by others.

We evaluate non-GAAP financial measures, including Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted Free Cash Flow, that exclude certain items such as cost reimbursements, acquisition related, organizational and separation related, litigation, and other charges, because these non-GAAP financial measures allow for period-over-period comparisons of our on-going core operations before the impact of these items. These non-GAAP financial measures also facilitate our comparison of results from our on-going core operations before these items with results from other vacation ownership companies.

Adjusted Earnings Before Interest Expense, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization ("Adjusted EBITDA"). We define Adjusted EBITDA as earnings, or net income attributable to common shareholders, before interest expense (excluding consumer financing interest expense associated with term loan securitization transactions), provision for income taxes, depreciation, amortization, certain items (as itemized in the discussion of Adjusted Net Income Attributable to Common Shareholders above), and share-based compensation expense. For purposes of our Adjusted EBITDA calculation, we do not adjust for consumer financing interest expense associated with term loan securitization transactions because we consider it to be an operating expense of our business. We consider Adjusted EBITDA to be an indicator of operating performance, which we use to measure our ability to service debt, fund capital expenditures and expand our business. We also use Adjusted EBITDA, as do analysts, lenders, investors and others, because this measure excludes certain items that can vary widely across different industries or among companies within the same industry. For example, interest expense can be dependent on a company's capital structure, debt levels and credit ratings. Accordingly, the impact of interest expense on earnings can vary significantly among companies. The tax positions of companies can also vary because of their differing abilities to take advantage of tax benefits and because of the tax policies of the jurisdictions in which they operate. As a result, effective tax rates and provision for income taxes can vary considerably among companies. Adjusted EBITDA excludes depreciation and amortization because companies utilize productive assets of different ages and use different methods of both acquiring and depreciating productive assets. These differences can result in considerable variability in the relative costs of productive assets and the depreciation and amortization expense among companies. Our Adjusted EBITDA also excludes share-based compensation expense to address considerable variability among companies in recording compensation expense because companies use share-based payment awards differently, both in the type and quantity of awards granted. We evaluate Adjusted EBITDA as an indicator of operating performance because it allows for period-over-period comparisons of our on-going core operations before the impact of these items, and it facilitates our comparison of results from our on-going core operations before the impact of these items with results from other vacation ownership companies.

Free Cash Flow, Adjusted Free Cash Flow and Total Cash Flow. We evaluate Free Cash Flow as a liquidity measure that provides useful information to management and investors about the amount of cash provided by operating activities after capital expenditures for property and equipment (excluding inventory) and the borrowing and repayment activity related to our securitizations, which cash can be used for strategic opportunities, including acquisitions and strengthening the balance sheet. Adjusted Free Cash Flow and Total Cash Flow, which reflects additional adjustments to Free Cash Flow for the impact of borrowings available from the securitization of eligible vacation ownership notes receivable, acquisition and restructuring charges, and changes in restricted cash, allows for period-over-period comparisons of the cash generated by our business before the impact of these items. Analysis of Free Cash flow and Total Cash Flow also facilitates management's comparison of our results with our competitors' results.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

Revenues Excluding Cost Reimbursements. Cost reimbursements revenue includes direct and indirect costs that property owners' associations and joint ventures we participate in reimburse to us, and relates, predominantly, to payroll costs where we are the employer. As we record cost reimbursements based upon costs incurred with no added markup, this revenue and related expense has no impact on net income attributable to us because cost reimbursements revenue net of reimbursed costs expense is zero. We consider revenues excluding cost reimbursements to be a meaningful metric as it represents that portion of revenue that impacts net income attributable to us.

Adjusted EBITDA Margin. We calculate Adjusted EBITDA Margin by dividing segment or total company Adjusted EBITDA, where applicable, by segment or total company revenues excluding cost reimbursements, where applicable. We consider Adjusted EBITDA Margin to be an indicator of operating performance for our segments and total company, and believe it provides useful information to investors, because it demonstrates the diversity of our business model and provides perspective regarding how much of our total Adjusted EBITDA Margin comes from each segment and the total company.

Adjusted EBITDA Contribution. We calculate Adjusted EBITDA Contribution by adding up the results of operations from our Development, Resort management / Management and exchange, Rental and Financing businesses, excluding allocations for general and administrative costs, royalty fees, and add backs for share-based compensation and depreciation, and then dividing that result by each business' results of operations, as reconciled herein. We consider Adjusted EBITDA Contribution to be an indicator of operating performance for our collective and separate businesses, and believe it provides useful information to investors, because it demonstrates the diversity of our business model and provides perspective regarding how much of our total Adjusted EBITDA comes from each of our businesses.
